The Internet is written in pen, not pencil.

Think before you write.

- 1. Protect your password, protect your identity.
- 2. Don't overshare your personal information.
- 3. Be careful what you download.

Protecting your online identity will protect Western's identity.

If your personal electronic device is infected by a virus, connecting to our network can spread to the rest of the community. Set up an anti-viral software.

If you receive a spam email and you are connected to your UWO, phishing can spread. Report phishing emails to proper channels (phising@uwo.ca).

People can intercept your personal and school's information when using wireless connections. Check and set network security settings on.

If your machine gets a virus and you connect to the UWO network, it could spread. Ensure you have the latest antivirus software and conduct regular checks on your computer for viruses/malware

Never leave your computer unattended and unlocked. Information theft puts you and those you know at risk. Take the time to lock your computer or find a friend to look after it.

Protecting yourself is an important step to protecting Western. Protect the community and report phishing emails to phishing@uwo.ca. Bring lost devices to Campus Police to prevent credentials being cached.

<https://cybersmart.uwo.ca>

Protecting yourself is an important step to protecting Western.

If your computer gets on it and you connect it to the Western network it could spread
If your email gets published, then can use the UWO account to spread other publishing emails to more Uwo Accounts.

Report publishing emails to the proper channels so we can post them to make others aware

If you find a phone bring it in to campus police
If lose your device tell campus police

Cyber Safe

Protect yourself:

- Do not download some strange files, please be careful.
- Be careful to protect your account and password.
- Do not share your personal information easily, especially your password.

Protect yourself is an important step to protecting Western.

If your machine gets viruses on it and you connect it to our network, it could spread.

Other things that help protect the community are simple things like reporting phishing emails to the proper channels

If you happen to lose your device report that to the Campus Police and make sure to change your password right away.

6 Steps to being Cybersmart

1-2

Keep your personal information secret. Always log out of the school network computers. This includes removing your USB drives.

Before using the school network make sure all USB drives have been scanned for viruses, they could be potential carriers.

3-4

Never visit unsafe websites. They could potentially be full of computer viruses that could effect your computer and the school network.

Dont be fooled by phishing. You can compromise other UWO accounts. Report phishing emails to phishing@uwo.ca

5-6

If your device is lost, always change your password before your private information can be accessed. Seek campus police for lost items.

Secure your computer by downloading Anti-virus software, Anti-spyware, and Anti-Malware.

Ways to protect cyber security

- > Protecting yourself is an important step to protecting Western.
- > Report phishing emails to the proper channels (phishing@uwo.ca)
- > Do not give out personal information
- > Change passwords every 90 days
- > Do not use the same password for everything
- > Clear history and cached information once in a while
- > The more individuals protect themselves the more the Western community as a whole is protected.
